Responsibility

We can all contribute personally to the pandemic response and safety of our communities by getting vaccinated (as we are able), following campus safety plans, performing a daily health check, staying home when sick, following handwashing and hygiene etiquette and following public health orders and guidelines both on and off campus.

It is up to each one of us to do our part, but it is our collective efforts that will make the difference.

For all events:
Before hosting, participating in, officiating at or being a spectator at, or for any other reason being present at an event, a person must carry out a health check. A person who has not passed the health check must not be present at an event. The organizer should plan for dedicated isolation areas and travel provisions for individuals showing symptoms of illness while waiting for transportation home or to a medical center.

If a person who becomes unwell during an event:
  - In an emergency, call 911.
  - Anyone who is ill or believes they have COVID-19 symptoms must isolate from the event and complete the BC self-assessment tool at https://bc.thrive.health/ or call 811 and follow the instructions provided.

Note: UBC will defer to Public Health to manage any notifications. UBC will assist in distributing these notifications if required.

UBC COVID-19 Rules

COVID-19 Campus Safety rules apply to all persons on campus. These rules confirm expectations of all members of the campus community, including:

  - Completing Daily Health Assessments - required of everyone prior to attending campus
  - COVID-19 training - required of employees
  - Wearing non-medical masks - non-medical masks are recommended in alignment with Step 3 of BC Restart Plan
  - Following Direction of Public Health - as it relates to Provincial Health Officer Orders, contact tracing and isolation requirements

For further information and complete list of rules, visit UBC Campus Rules & Guidance Documents. Frequently asked questions about COVID-19 protocols at UBC can be found here.
